

I2 is the top-ranked family when each retained lineage is judged against its own relic field

Positive values mean relic-class branches retain more own-family structure than founder-class branches after same surname and same location are excluded.

